Western Breakfast To Be April 6

Two New Dormitories Will Be Erected At Western

Eleven Story Structure To Be So. Ky.'s Tallest

An 11-story dormitory to house men students and a four-story dormitory for women students are being planned for the Western State College campus, and there is a good chance that both of them can be under construction by late summer, according to Dr. Kelly Thompson, president of the college.

Estimated cost of the new "skyscraper" building is $1,300,000. It will contain bedroom space for 410 men, apartments for director and assistant director, central elevator service, all necessary supporting auxiliary space, and will be fully air-conditioned.

President Thompson stated that the building is being designed as a central building to the cluster of men's dormitories which have been erected in the area of 16th Street and Normal Drive. It will blend architecturally with the existing new buildings and will be landscaped in such a way as to give the entire area the appearance of a single development.

The new men's dormitory, tallest building in southern Kentucky, will be built of reinforced concrete and finished in colonial brick. Frank Cain, Bowling Green, and Ben Johnson, Owensboro, are the architects.

At the same time a four-story dormitory for women is also being planned for construction on the Kentucky Building grounds at a right angle to the six-story dormitory now under construction. Estimated cost of this building is $800,000. It will provide housing for 230 women and will be fully air-conditioned.

The new women's dormitory will extend from the Russellville Road to the six-story dormitory near the Heating Plant. It will be constructed of reinforced concrete with brick finish. Plans call for another dormitory of matching design to be erected in a similar space near the Kentucky Building at a later date.

A small sandwich shop is included in the plans for the new building and will be located on the ground floor at the northwest end.

W. S. Arrasmith, Louisville, and Joseph P. Wilk, Bowling Green, are the architects.

It is hoped that contracts for both buildings can be let this summer, and it is planned that both buildings be ready for occupancy in September, 1963.

Funds for the two projects have been encumbered by the Housing

Residence halls will close officially for the spring vacation and KEA holidays at 12:00 noon Saturday, March 31, and will reopen at 10 a.m. Sunday, April 1. urday, April 7. The team winning the drill meet will be the unofficial national champion exhibition drill team.

One drill team will be sent from each of the thirteen PR regiments throughout the country to participate in the meet. Western has been chosen to represent the Third Regiment, which includes such institutions as Murray State College, Indiana University, Purdue University, and seven others located throughout Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan. Coach Diddle Elected OVC Coach Of The Year

By LARRY DYKES
Sports Editor

Coach Ed Diddle is the Ohio Valley Conference's basketball "Coach of the Year." Coach Diddle was an overwhelming choice in balloting by his coaching rivals in the conference after the Hilltoppers had won the right to represent the OVC in the NCAA Tournament.

The only coach ever to win more than 700 games at the same college, Diddle saw his team play its 1000th game this season. The winningest coach in college basketball history, Diddle has just completed his 40th season as the Toppers' head. He has compiled a fabulous record of 749 wins against 270 losses for a percentage of .735. Only twice in 40 years has he experienced a losing season, back in 1929 and 1930. The Toppers have now won their last 27 games at home.

Under Coach Diddle, in the 14 year history of the Ohio Valley Conference, Western has won seven regular seasons' crowns outright and tied for the title on three other occasions. The Toppers also won the OVC Tournament four Franklin Simpson's debate team was runnerup to Bowling Green, and gained the right to join Bowling Green High in the State Festival to be held next month.

In the junior division, Caverna won the Regional Certificate by accumulating the most total points in the junior speaking events.

In all, more than 200 students participated in the festival. These students came from twelve schools throughout South Central Kentucky. In addition, eight of the schools entered debate teams in the competition.

You Are Western!!

By DOUGLAS L. VERDIER

Many students seem to be under the impression that Western has only two teams that need student support. And when the football and basketball seasons draw to a close, the spectators and supporters of Hill-top teams drift away and indulge in other matters until next season.

Thoughts like this are fallacious. Western has, in fact, more than a dozen teams which function throughout the school year, and all need student support.

There is the dairy judging team, rifle team, debate team, drill team, band and orchestra, just to name a few. If your preference is for sports, springtime brings out the track team, golf team, tennis team and baseball team. In fact, if you stop to think about it, a Western team is functioning in some capacity, be it practice or competition, almost every day.

All the aforementioned teams play an important part in gaining recognition for Western. When these teams travel, they represent Western. To the people who see them, they are Western.

Are you a member of any team here at Western? No? Think again. Of course you are. You are a member of the largest team on this campus — the student body. It may sound trite to call the student body a team, but, on closer consideration, the student body resembles a team in many ways. And like all the other teams, this one too needs your support. Support in class projects and meetings. Support of the class officers which you elected. And above all, support of the school itself.

As a member of this team, you represent Western wherever you go. To the people who see you, you are Western. Whatever you do, whatever you say; all will reflect on this college.

Keep these things in mind in the weeks to come, and especially during spring vacation while you are away from the campus.

Remember, you represent Western. You are Western.

Faculty House Enjoys Illustrious History

By KENNETH HELM

In my opinion, the Faculty House has the most illustrious history of any building on this campus. I will try to give you the high points of its history.

To start the history, you will have to go back in time to the year 1918.

The Hill was called the Hill, the school (Western was not yet a four year college) was called Western Kentucky State Normal School, the President was Henry Hardin Cherry.

In the summer of 1918 there was a great drought and the many cedars on the Hill began to turn brown. They may have lived had it rained, but a great hoard of bag worms entered the scene and between the two, all of the cedars on the Hill died.

The cedars had been dead over a year and the year was 1920. The dead trees stood out like a great brown scar on the Hill and something had to be done.

In the early spring of 1920 everyone of the 1559 students was trying to think of uses for the dead trees. Someone suggested that they be used to build a recreation hall for the Students.

A plan was drawn by D. X. Murphy and Brothers, Architects, of Louisville. This plan was completed on May 7, 1920. Work began during the summer after school was out.

In the early summer the foundation was built by masons from town. Several students stayed to work on the building. They decided to call the structure the Senior House.

Professors W. J. Craig, Henry M. Yarbrough, and George V. Page of the Chemistry, Mathematics, and Physics departments respectively, said that they would direct and supervise the building of the Senior House.

L. Y. Lancaster, a student at that time, who retired from the Biology department recently, hewed the first log with an old fashioned broad axe. Although the students started during the summer of 1920, they did not finish until the summer of 1921. The roof and some of the interior was done by the contractors that were building J. Whit Potter Hall.

The faculty was kind enough to sign a note for $6,500.00 that paid the architects, contractors, for materials and other essentials. This note was to be repaid by the income from student activities.

The students who returned to school in the fall of 1922, found several surprises. The Senior House was completed and ready and there was much activity in and around it. The enrollment was 2,616, this was an increase of over 1,000 during the last two years. The incidental and enrollment fees had been raised to an "outrageous" $5.00 per semester. The name of the school had been changed to Western Kentucky State Teachers College.

A faculty member lived in the Senior House to supervise parties

Experimental Theatre Will Do Kabuki Play

The next production of the Western Player's Experimental Theatre will be Wednesday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. in Snell Hall Auditorium. To be presented is "Gonza the Lancer," a play of the Japanese Kabuki Theater.

Miss Sara Rhodes of the English department is the director of this production, and Larry Siria is the assistant director.

The story of "Gonza the Lancer" is one of romance and intrigue. The Samurai or knights of Japan were highly privileged persons; but to be worthy of their position they were expected to maintain a stern and idealistic code of behavior. Gonza the Lancer is one of the finest of the young men in the province. In preparation for a visit from the Emperor, he along with other young Samurai is trying to learn the proper form for the complicated tea ceremony used at court. Although the tea master has gone to Tokyo, his wife, Osai, can teach them very well. Bannojo, a rough youth, hopes to take this opportunity to seduce her; but Osai loves Gonza and so allows him to come in the evening to study the secret scrolls. In the quiet tea-house, her passion overcomes her, and she screams with jealousy as she rips from him the sash his fiancé has embroidered for him. He is shocked and in anger throws both her sash and his into the garden where Bannojo, who has slipped in through the hedge, retrieves them and shouts aloud that Gonza and Osai are lovers.

Gonza's career is ruined. The only honorable step for both him and Osai is to flee together so that Osai's husband, Ichinoskin, can pursue and kill them. This will at least redeem Ichinoskin's honor. Sadly they make their way out of the garden and begin their pilgrimage.

Two or three months later, Ichinoskin and Fimbel, Osai's brother, find the lovers in a little village. Gonza and Osai go stoically forward to meet their deaths by Ichinoskin's sword. By the code of a Samurai, Gonza must attempt to defend himself; but as he has no sword, his defense is only symbolic. Ichinoskin finally stands in triumph over the bodies of those who have disgraced him. The demands of honor have been fulfilled.

Part of the cast includes Ann Downing, Don Alexander, Byron Dennis, Larry Sampson, and Ed Curtis.

Book Marks

By Dianne Howard
During the past century each new generation of Americans has discovered the fascination and deep meaning of the Civil War. An average of perhaps a book a day has been written on some aspect of this great conflict. Several books are found in our library that retell this war.

A penetrating essay on how the great conflict shaped modern America is Robert Penn Warren's The Legacy of the Civil War. Mr. Warren writes about its influence on our economy, social institutions, domestic politics, foreign policy, philosophy and our psychology, applying the past to the present in such a way as to throw new light on many crucial current problems.

John Hope Franklin presents his views on Reconstruction as a tributary of the main stream of American civilization in Reconstruction after the Civil War. He which still impedes the solution of problems left by the Civil War. He also reminds us that there were southerners who did not favor secession and that the constitution drawn up by some of the Radical state government were often wise and durable. Franklin feels the ending of the Reconstruction is traced to a combination of southern corruption and lack of interest in the North.

Great Battles of the Civil War, produced by Life magazine, is an interesting pamphlet on the great war. Colorful pictures illustrate the different battles fought. The editors also describe the battle sites that are tourist attractions today and tell us where to visit the sites.

J. C. Furnas presents a vivid exploration of the facts and the follies that, beginning with the slave trade in Africa, led to the raid on Harper's Ferry 100 years ago in The Road to Harper's Ferry. The influences that impelled John Brown and the "Secret Six" to the crime of treason are told.

The readers encounter many fascinating characters — the sophisticated Kings of Dahomey and Toussaint L'Ouverture; the William Witherforce and fire-eating William Lloyd Garrison; Creole mistresses; Nat Turner, Theodore Parker, and Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe.

"The Civil War is the thing that makes America different. It was our most tremendous experience,

HILLTOPICS

By Ed Hocker

In many respects, this has been one of the greatest years in the history of Western. This year has been characterized by enormous expansion in practically all phases of the college.

With the opening of the fall semester in September 1961, Western had the largest enrollment in its history of over fifty years. This enrollment was a thirty-three per cent increase over the enrollment of the previous year, which was considered to be spectacular. It was believed by many college officials that this per cent of increase was possibly the largest in the United States.

Of course, an increase of this magnitude is accompanied by many problems; most of these problems were dealt with expeditiously with the student being the administration's first concern.

One of the problems accompanying the enormous student population was one of student housing. Plans were already in progress for a new six-story dormitory for women; and now that this dormitory is taking on its final shape, plans have been inaugurated for the building of two more modern, fully equipped structures for student housing. The most recent plans include an eleven-story dormitory for men and another dormitory for women which will be four stories high. Incidentally when the eleven-story men's dormitory is finished, it will be the tallest edifice in southern Kentucky.

Construction on Western's multi-million dollar Academic-Athletic building was also begun during the fall semester. When completed, this structure will house the "E. A. Diddle Arena" with a seating capacity of 13,000. This enormous, multi-purpose building will also house thirty class rooms, an olympic-size, indoor swimming pool, and will be acoustically designed for use as a concert hall.

Having been completed, the new Kelly Thompson Science Hall was dedicated in the early part of the fall semester. This new building of modern design houses the biology, chemistry, and physics departments.

The older buildings have not been abandoned at Western; most of these veteran structures have been removed partially and some have had a complete facelift.

All this says only one thing—WESTERN IS ON THE MOVE.

He Runs My Life!

By SIDNEY WARDLE

I arise in the morning to his loud, stern voice. Three times he calls, and then I am awake.

He is silent for a while, then, allowing me enough time to dress and get ready for class. These minutes of peace and silence are precious to me. I move slowly, hoping in my heart that he will forget about me.

But he never fails. Soon he speaks again, this time to remind me that I must leave for class. His voice holds such a note of urgency that I hurry to do as he bids.

When he thinks that I have learned all that I should in ope class, he draws me away to another. Though stern and unbending, he is very fair and conscientious, allowing the same amount of time in each class.

After a while, he, realizing that I am only human, invites me to stop and rest, eat a little, and talk with friends. He is always steady, never forgetting this pleasant time of the day.

But the time of relaxation must always come to an end, and firmly he sends me back to my classes and more learning.

I am sure that he must grow weary as the day wears on, but he continues to be watchful and reliable.

As the sun falls lower and lower in the sky, he decides that night is coming when all should be in their dorms for a time.

I hear him once more, later on. He says, "Be still! Study!"

He is quiet through the night. Yet I know that in the morning I will hear him again. "He" is a bell.

115 Members Attend SNEA's Annual Dinner

SNEA's annual dinner was held Wednesday, March 21, at Western Hills Restaurant.

One hundred fifteen SNEA members were present including student and faculty members. Among those who enjoyed the evening together were Dr. Tate C. Page, Miss Frances Richards, Dr. John Scarborough, Dr. and Mrs. T. O. Hall, Mr. John Lee, and Mrs. Virginia Harvin.

Others attending were Dean Judith Moore, Mr. James A. Carpenter, Mrs. E. C. Garrett, Dr. E. W. Beck, Miss Mary Coleman Adams, Miss Sharon Goff (last year's state president), Miss Brenda Harmon (this year's state secretary), Mr. Bart Spano, and Dr. Mary I. Cole.

Mrs. Jean Galloway who was the coordinating banquet chairman moderated the program. For the first time the chapter had no invited guests and was able to augment the scholarship fund by fifty-six dollars which formerly would have been spent for guest tickets and more elaborate decorations.

Dr. Tate C. Page, head of the Division of Teacher Education, discussed the future of teacher education at Western, admission to teacher education, and the SNEA as a professional laboratory experience for all students entering the profession.

Dr. Page also praised the progress of the SNEA Scholarship project. The fund is beginning to grow from alumni, faculty, and student contributions. Last week a check for twenty dollars was received from Miss Margaret Sutton, principal of Washington School in Owensboro; this was our second alumni contribution to date.

Mr. James A. Carpenter, Director of the Training School, discussed the Fourth Annual NEA Professional Organization Workshop which will be held on our campus April 24. More than three hundred fifty SNEA members will be invited to the workshop.

For lighter entertainment Miss Ellen Harvin moderated a question and answer skit which had been planned by Mrs. Betty Nutter and Miss Maria Braddon. The answer to each question identified a member who was present.

Flowers for the evening were donated by Miss Della Mac Daniel and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Houk. Mrs. Carolyn Houk was Western's candidate for the Lillian Lehman trophy in 1961.

Wood Will Preside At Luncheon

The principle speaker for the luncheon will be Dr. J. N. Hook, head of the Department of English at the University of Illinois. Dr. Hook is an outstanding figure in the teaching of English. He has written articles and textbooks on the teaching of English and especially the teaching of high-school English. Dr. Hook has served as a former executive secretary of the National Council of the Teachers of English.

Dr. Wood, who has served as a district leader, treasurer, secretary, vice-president, and president of KCTE, announced that the annual business meeting and the election of officers will be held during the luncheon. The newly elected officers for the coming year will also be installed during this meeting.

The KCTE boasts a membership of over 1,300 members, and approximately 300 members and guests are expected to attend this luncheon.

Thompson and business manager Billy Smith met with David Pritchett, chief of the Division of Engineering, and his staff last week in Frankfort. At that time the programming plans for the two projects were approved by the State Division of Engineering.

Presently under construction are the $2,900,000 Academic-Athletic Building on the Russellville Road and the $1,200,000 six-story women's dormitory on the Kentucky Building grounds.

The giant Academic-Athletic Building is expected to be ready for occupancy at the opening of school in September, 1963.

Hugh Moore, a student who rooms at 1417 State Street, told City Police he left the motor of his car, running while he went into the dormitory for a few minutes. When he returned, the 1965 Pontiac had been stolen.

Moore described the vehicle as a brown car with a white top. It had Michigan license plates number DL 5484.

CRAM COURSE NO. 1: MODERN EUROPEAN HISTORY

The school year draws rapidly to a close, and it's been a fun year, what with learning the twist, attending public executions, and walking our crotchets. But are we ready for final exams? Some of us, I fear, are not. Therefore, in these few remaining columns, I propose to forego levity and instead offer a series of cram courses so that we may all be prepared at exam time.

We will start with Modern European History. Strictly defined, Modern European History covers the history of Europe from January 1, 1962, to the present. However, in order to provide employment for more teachers, the course has been moved back to the Age of Pericles, or the Renaissance, as it is jocularly called.

The single most important fact to remember about Modern European History is the emergence of Prussia. As we all know, Prussia was originally called Russia. The "P" was purchased from Persia in 1874 for $24 and Manhattan Island. This fact became known as Guy Lawkes Day.

Persia, without a "P" was of course called Fira. Persia so embarrassed the natives that they changed the name of the country to Iran. This led to a rash of name changing. Mesopotamia became Iraq, Schleswig-Holstein became Sax-Geborg, Bosnia-Herzegovina became Cleveland. There was even talk of an stable old England about changing the name of the country, but it was forgotten when the little princes escaped from the Tower and set fire to Pitt, the Elder.

Meanwhile Johannes Gutenberg was quietly inventing the printing press, for which we may all be grateful, believe you me! Why grateful? I'll tell you why grateful. Because without Gutenberg's invention, there would be no printing on cigarette packs. You would not know when you bought cigarettes whether you were getting good Marlboros or some horrid imitation. You could never be sure that you were buying a full-flavored smoke with a pure white filter, a cigarette that lets you settle back and get comfortable—in short, a Marlboro. It is a prospect to chill the bones and turn the blood to sorghum—so if you are ever in Frank-furt am Main, drop in and say thanks to Mr. Gutenberg. He is elderly—408 years old last birthday—but still quite active in his laboratory. In fact, only last Tuesday he invented the German short-haired pointer.

But I digress. Back to Modern European History. Let us turn now to that ever popular favorite, France.

France, as we all know, is divided into several departments.

He invented the German short-haired pointer

There is the Police Department, the Fire Department, the Gas and Water Department, and the Bureau of Weights and Measures. There is also Madame Pompadour, but that need not concern us because it is a dirty story and is only taught to graduate students.

Finally, let us take up Italy—the newest European nation. Italy did not become a unified state until 1848 when Garibaldi, Cavour, and Victor Emmanuel threw three coins in the Trevi Fountain. This lovely gesture so enchanted all of Europe that William of Orange married Mary Stuart and caused a potato famine in Ireland. This, in turn, resulted in Pitt, the Younger.

All of this may seem a bit complicated, but be of good cheer. Everything was happily resolved at the Congress of Vienna where Metternich traded Parma to Talleyrand for Mad Ludwig of Bavaria. Then everybody waited till dawn and then, tired but content, they started the Thirty Years' War. © 1962 Max Shulman

LESSON 10- Girls should be real

Bird watching manuals clearly state that this is the study of living birds. It has nothing whatsoever to do with stuffed birds, models of birds or photographs of birds. The girl watching purist observes this same rule. In other words, girl watchers do not consider it a true function of their art to watch girls in movies or magazines.

The real, live girl is only and always the object of his quest, the subject of his contemplation. As experienced girl watchers (such as the cowboys above) know, there's no substitute for the real thing. (Pall Mall smokers know it, too. There's no substitute for Pall Mall's natural mildness—it's so good to your taste!)

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!

and other functions held there. In February of 1953 the library moved from the Potter College Building to the Senior House. The library had approximately 12,000 volumes at this time. It was heated by a large stove under the floor and it was extremely cold at both ends.

By April 14, 1954, the $6,800 debt on the Senior House had been paid down to $4,045.14 and the Board of Regents decided to sell it to the state for that figure.

The Senior House had been used for a library over a year and everyone had started calling it the Cedar House.

The Cedar House was used for a library until February of 1958. The library had 18,000 volumes when they moved to their newly completed library building.

The Cedar House was used for its intended purpose from 1928 until 1953 when the Paul L. Garrett Student Center was completed. This twenty-four year period can be summed up in a few sentences. It was used as the social center of the Hill not only for students but also the teachers. It was used for parties, dances, as a recreational hall and as a general meeting place.

From 1952 until 1959, the Cedar House was used mainly as a band room for the training school. Although, a few dances and social events were held here.

In 1959, the Cedar House was remodeled, and renamed the Faculty House. The Architect on the remodeling was Mr. Frank Cain. It is now being used by the faculty as a place they can go on their time off and relax, grade papers or just talk.

The building houses the College Heights Foundation in the southwest corner. It also houses the apartment of Mrs. Elizabeth Walz, who is hostess. Her apartment is upstairs.

I would like to express my appreciation to Dr. Henry M. Yarbrough, Miss Margie Helm, Miss Etta Runner, Miss Gabrielle Robertson, Dr. L. Y. Lancaster, and Mr. L. T. Smith who gave unselfishly of both their time and knowledge on this subject. Some of the facts were from Mr. James P. Cornette's book "A History of the Western Kentucky State College".

and it is not quite like anything that ever happened to anyone else. . . The story of this war needs retelling, as it centennial comes around, because it helped to shape the future of the human race."—Bruce Cotton.

Cotton presents a fast-moving narrative, covering both the military and political aspects of the war, in The American Heritage Picture History of the Civil War. The book's illustrations, composed of 836 pictures, range from the superb photographs of Mathew Brady and the sketches of Winslow Homer, to dozens of unknown paintings, drawings, and eye-witnessed battle scenes, neglected for almost a century.

Accompanying the pictures are text blocks and captions by the staff of the publishing company. These blocks and captions make it possible to trace the actual maneuvers of famous battles and contribute to a better understanding of the war.

The Wartime Papers of R. E. Lee, by Clifford Dowdy and Louis H. Manarian, is a monumental contribution to the literature of the Civil War. The Letters, written by Lee, show the full and human character of the legendary man whose devotion to his cause was complete, yet totally realistic. These letters, published in full, many for the first time, are Lee's official correspondence—letters, orders, dispatches, and battle reports.

Toppers Make All-OVC Teams

By LARRY DYKES,

Sports Editor

The Ohio Valley Conference champion Hilltoppers have the distinction of filling all five starters spots on the first three all-conference teams. They were also the only team with two members from the same team on the first five.

Bobby Rascoe and Harry Todd along with Morehead's Granville Williams, Tennessee Tech's Tom McKinney, and Murray's Jim Jennings compose the 1961-62 All-OVC basketball first team. Rascoe and Williams were named unanimously on ballots selected by the league's coaches.

Eastern Kentucky placed two men on the second unit, Jim Werk and Larry Parks. The second five also included the Topper's Darel Carrier, Morehead's Ed Noe, and East Tennessee's Willie Malone.

Barely missing berths on the No. 2 unit were Western's Jim Dunn and Middle Tennessee's Paul Holland. Rounding out the third team are Bobby Jackson of Western, Mal Roberts of East Tennessee, Ray Gardner of Eastern, Murray Ron Greene, and Eastern's Ron Pickett. Western led in placing members on the teams with five following closely with four.

For a team that wasn't supposed to win its own conference the Toppers turned in a record-making season. After a disparaging December the Hilltoppers came back to win 11 of 12 OVC games and captured the conference laurels by a record-breaking margin of four games.

Led by All America Bobby Rascoe, who set a three-year varsity career scoring mark by scoring 1607 points in 78 games for 20.6 average. This was also a varsity career record for the school Rascoe has been chosen to play in the 11th Annual All-Star 7ast-West Shrine basketball game in Kansas City March 31. This game will be on CBS-TV at 1:00.

Consistency marked the college career of Harry Todd. Winning all-state honors three years as a Kentucky high schooler he led the Hilltoppers in rebounding with 12.5 per game. Todd averaged in double figures in all his three varsity seasons. His career average is 11.9 points per game.

A sophomore who played like a senior, and was the second leading scorer, was Darel Carrier. His 79.0 free throw percentage and a 42.1 per cent clip from the field are two reasons why he was second in scoring.

The lone out-of-state member, Jim Dunn proved invaluable with his battling spirit and jumping ability as he was second in rebounding with 9.5 per game and averaged 23.3 points per game.

One of the most talented members of the team was Bobby Jackson, who can play any position on the court. Standing only 6-3 1/2 he would occasionally move in and play the pivot position. While averaging 17.5 points in 25 games he also pulled down 7.8 rebounds per contest.

The fireball and defensive specialist was Doug Smith. The most unheralded member of the squad, his aggressiveness and desire to play made him an important cog in the Hilltoppers title drive.

In conjunction with the football team the coaches selected the other three state schools and had the OVC basketball "coach of the year."

After 37 basketball games the Topper's season has come to an end. The Toppers finished by losing their last two games bringing their season record to 17-10. The first loss came from the number one ranked Ohio State 93-73, and the second to a fine and spirited Butler University 87-86 in a thrilling overtime. Three seniors played their final collegiate basketball game Saturday night, Bobby Rascoe, Harry Todd, and Doug Smith.

The Toppers played on even terms with the Buckeyes of Ohio State until the final 6:05 of the first half. The scored was tied five times and the lead changed hands four times. Moreover, All-America Jerry Lucas was on the bench the last 10:37 before intermission with three personals on him. Lucas was held to only nine points. In that final 6:05 the Toppers hit a cold streak and could only score three points on free throws while the big, fast, and talented Buckeyes scored 17 points and that was just about it. Bobby Rascoe led both teams in scoring with 26 points.

Trailing 30-31 at halftime the Bulldogs of Butler fought back to edge Western in a overtime 87-86. Butler's winning basket came with 15 seconds left in the overtime. Rascoe however, hit on a jumper to cut the margin to one point. The Toppers got the final shot, a long-ranged set shot, that fell short of the mark. Bobby Rascoe finished his college career in a blazing glory by scoring 29 points and being chosen on the All-Tournament Team. Rascoe ended the season with 694 points, second highest in a single season.

Detroit's Dave DeBusschere, who scored 38 points against the Hilltoppers in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament, reportedly has been offered $65,000 from the Detroit Tigers baseball team.

The Tigers are believed to have the inside track because of an agreement to let DeBusschere also play professional basketball. Incidentally, DeBusschere's 38 points against the Toppers was the high for an opponent this season.

It appears more and more that officials do not favor the defensive man. In the Western-Detroit game, Western's Jim Dunn made a perfect block on a shot by Harrison Munson with 16:30 left in the second half, and Dunn was called for fouling. Several coaches sitting within six feet of the play and having a perfect view of the play said, "that proves what we

College High FHA Presents Fashion Show

As spring nears, the thoughts of most College High girls seem to be turning toward the new ideas in fashions. To help the girls to be "properly dressed" for all occasions, the Future Homemakers of America chapter presented a humorous style show at the weekly chapel program recently.

What would you wear to a tea? It is only logical that the apparel should be a plain dress tattered with dangling tea bags. Maybe you are planning to buy a car coat. May it be suggested that you find a model that has a few small-type sports cars hanging from the collar. Perhaps this is not such a bad idea.

The models for this show were Cindy Wilgus, Sandra Lovelace, Margaret Davenport, Brenda Humphries, Paula Wagner, Judy Miller, Betty Proffitt, Jane Hendrick, Linda Hamilton, Trudy Dodd, Anita Cockkrill, Rosanne Jones, and Patty Griffin.

The program was under the direction of Judie Burkhalter, a FHA member, who did the project as work toward the State FHA degree.

Denes Signs Two More

Football coach Nick Denes has signed two Georgia high school football stars.

Bob Taylor made the Georgia AAA All-State team at guard, the other is Jerry Matthews who played end and tackle and did the punting for Athens High School.

Nalbach—KIEA

Mr. Walter B. Nalbach, head of the Industrial Arts department, recently attended an executive committee meeting of the Kentucky Industrial Education Association at Louisville.

The meeting was the second in a series of four that are held yearly in order to make plans for the forthcoming KIEA Convention.

Rascoe Receives Most Valuable Player Award

Bobby Rascoe was named Western's most valuable basketball player at the assembly program held in the gymnasium March 21.

The senior guard was presented WLBJ's MVP trophy by Bob Procter, radio announcer.

Other honors Rascoe has received include honorable mention on the Associated Press and the United Press International polls of All-Americans. He was also named to compete in the Shrine East-West basketball game to be played March 31, in Kansas City. He will be a member of the East All-Star squad.

Rascoe has a three-year total of 1,687 points, 604 of them were scored this season. His career average of 20.7 points a game for 81 games is a record. It tops the old record of 20.1 set by Ralph Crosthwaite. Rascoe's 25.7 average is just short of Tom Marshall's record of 25.9 average per game scored in one season.

Bobby also holds Western's record for the most NCAA Tournament games played in (6), most points scored in NCAA games (141) and best NCAA average (23.3).

He is no. 3 scorer in the history of basketball at Western and no. 1 in scoring for a three year varsity player.

Rascoe plans to play AAU or professional basketball upon graduation.

have been saying. Dunn made a perfect block, but because of the officials favoring the offensive man, the foul is on Dunn. It just isn't fair."

Granville Williams of Morehead and Bobby Rascoe of Western finished one-two in scoring averages in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Williams finished the season with 572 points in 22 games for an average of 26.0 points per game.

Rascoe had 630 points for an average of 28.6 points per game in 22 games. Rascoe also led a field goal percentages, with 228 out of 448 attempts for 50.4 per cent and Williams was the free throw leader with 128 out of 160 for 80.3 per cent.

Two more top football prospects have been signed to continue their football careers at Western. Both boys are from Athens, Georgia. Jerry Matthews, second tackle, is rated by his Athens coach, as "one of the best high school punters I've seen in Georgia." Matthews also co-captained his Athens team to a 7-3 record. Bob Taylor, a guard, was named to the Associated Press' all-state AAA team.

Magicians Cast Spell On Western

Nearly 1,000 basketball fans saw a group of Western cage stars lose to the Harlem Magicians 79-44 at the Bowling Green gym Wednesday, March 21.

The Westernstars were led in scoring by seniors Bobby Rascoe, Harry Todd, and Doug Smith. Also playing were former Hilltoppers Charley Osborne, Tom Marshall, Dan King, Odie Spears, and Monie Beard.

The game was sponsored by the Quarterback club.

COLLEGE STUDENTS IN THE VACATION RIOTS

What touches off the vicious vacation riots in resort towns from coast to coast? What madness causes the drunkenness, open immorality, violent battles with police? What sudden mob impulse can motivate a crowd of 80,000 educated young men and women into a rampage of destruction? Perhaps it's a new way to "let off steam" . . . a savage kind of self-expression. But why are so many college students—presumably the nation's most "adult" and sophisticated young people—involved? Why do they knowingly risk their futures, even their lives for a few hours of wild abandon? In the new April McCall's, don't miss the unbelievable, yet true, report on the spread of this insane activity . . . the terrible price you may have to pay if you're involved . . . and how you can help stop the insanity.

P.R. Drill Team Will March In Festival

outstanding performances in drill competition in the past few years. The drill team, has won first place in the Regimental Drill Meet the past four years.

During the drill meet and festival, the drillers will be housed by the US Army at near-by Ft. Belvoir, Va., which is about 8 miles from the Capitol City. The drill team will be accompanied by SFC. William M. Parks, faculty advisor to the PR company.

The Pershing Rifles organization was founded at the University of Nebraska in the fall of 1902 under the name of Varsity Rifles. This was done when Lt. John J. Pershing, Commandant of the drill unit at Nebraska, requested that the men there form a crack drill organization that would be an example to the rest of the drill units at the university. A company of the forty best-drilled men at Nebraska was formed, and later changed the name to Pershing Rifles in 1904 in honor of the General John J. Pershing that we know today. This drill company gave rise to an idea that has now spread to practically every college or university in the United States and Puerto Rico that has an ROTC unit.

Pershing Rifles was chartered at Western on February 4, 1937, and was designated as Company B - Third Regiment. Organized by Major Herbert W. Schmid, US Army, who was at the time an instructor of Military Science at Western, the company was later named the Herbert W. Schmid Chapter in his honor. The commanding officer at that time was Cadet Major Philip J. Noel, Jr., BS '37, who is now an Army Lieutenant Colonel stationed at Ft. Lesley J. McNair, Washington, D. C. There were 36 Charter Members in Company B.

Today, the membership of Company B has increased to 73. The main activities of the Pershing Rifles at Western are drill meets and service projects for the school.

The company attends about four drill meets each year. In the past five years, Company B has won some 25 trophies. These were won by the I. D. R. Regulation Drill Team, the Exhibition Drill Team and the Rifle Team. The drill team has won first place at Regimental Assembly the past four years and the Rifle team has been first in the Regiment the past three years.
